

FREE HIP-HOP DANCE WORKSHOPS

⇒ Are you interested in auditioning for the Junior Players' production of In the Heights?

⇒ Are you interested in improving your dance skills?

⇒ Do you want to learn the latest hip-hop and salsa dance moves?

Then come and take advantage of these free dance workshops that will teach you the latest dance moves that you have always wanted to learn. These workshops will be high energy classes that teach you basic hip-hop and salsa combinations. Attendance will also give you the skills you need to gain an upper hand at our In the Heights auditions!

When: Saturdays: September 20th and 27th & October 4th and 11th

(Preference given to those who can make all 4 workshop dates.)

Where: Sammons Center for the Arts

Kurth Hall (4th Floor)

3630 Harry Hines Blvd.

Dallas, TX 75219

Time: 2:00pm - 5:00pm

Who: Students Currently in Grades 9-12

How to Sign Up:

Email devon@juniorplayers.org

Who to Call for More Info:

Junior Players Office

214-526-4076

Taught by Rebecca (Becki) McDonald. Becki is a choreographer, dancer, actor and director in the DFW area. She has spent much of her life training in ballet, jazz, contemporary, modern, tap, and her specialty, hip-hop. She has performed internationally and continues to teach in DFW. Rebecca holds a BA in Art and Performance from the University of Texas at Dallas, and a MA in Drama from Texas Woman's University. Rebecca believes that dance is a universal language and she encourages everyone to get up and move whenever and in whatever way they can!

